

LBJ 'Standing Tall'

Trains Sights on Grand-Slam Victory In Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon Baines Johnson, today six months in the presidency, is reported to be training his sights on a grand-slam victory at the polls in November — 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Johnson, who stepped out of the background Nov. 22 to grasp the torch of government from the fallen John F. Kennedy, often talks—Texas style—about "standing tall."

Friends say he hopes to stand taller on the political horizon in another six months than any other president in U.S. history. And like the army of other politicians, small and mighty, Johnson intends to stand on his record.

He has, in this half-year from autumn to spring, labored like a mule to try to whip the New Frontier legislative program through Congress — but emblazoned with the fresh LBJ brand.

A dedicated poll watcher, Johnson is very much aware that a recent Gallup poll credits him with greater popularity than President Franklin D. Roosevelt enjoyed in May 1936.

That was the year FDR carried every state except Maine and Vermont, rolling up a landslide record that still stands. Johnson calls Roosevelt his "second daddy," but being a man who likes to stand tall he intends to do his "dead level best"—a pet Johnson phrase—to beat that record.

If this sounds audacious, the President is not one to sell himself short. Woven into the record of his first six months in office is a never-say-die spirit.

As leader of Senate Democrats in the 1950s, Johnson's strong point was an ability to compromise the views of opposing factions and fashion coalitions capable of enacting major legislation. In fact, his emphasis on compromise was so marked that, at times, disgruntled Democrats labeled him "lying down Lyndon."

As President, Johnson has been a different kind of leader. Time and again, he has refused to take no for an answer.

When Congress has defeated or pigeonholed important administration bills, he has insisted on another vote. This has been true of measures to raise the pay of federal executives, to finance the International Development Association, to extend the food stamp plan, to provide price supports for wheat growers. And when the House voted last December for a foreign aid rider aimed at thwarting wheat sales to the Soviet Union, Johnson won a reversal.

Sometimes it seems that Johnson believes all things are possible if the presidential will is steadfast. Certainly this was true of his approach to the five-year-old dispute that threatened a national rail strike. While some advisers warned that Johnson would risk injury to his prestige by committing the force of the presidency to a hopeless cause, he went ahead and staged last-ditch negotiations in the White House. He got the settlement.

The rail agreement was widely regarded as something of a miracle. So, too, was enactment of the biggest tax cut in history. When Johnson took office, it seemed quite possible the Senate would take many, many months to act on tax legislation. Johnson broke the logjam by undercutting opposition with a much-publicized economy in government program.

Many Americans laughed when the President dramatized his pinch-penny proclivities by dousing lights in the White House. However, he set an example that is hitting home—evidenced by the recent move to substitute hydrogen for helium in weather balloons. The $14,000 saved by the Weather Bureau in this fashion won't pay off the national debt, but it's a start, and it has helped win Johnson applause from critics of big government spending.

Johnson repeatedly proclaims his desire to be "president of all the people." And, in six months, he has worked feverishly at selling himself—and with some apparent success.

A few months ago, street crowds that turned out for Johnson were modest in size and restrained in their applause. And in recent weeks, he has added medical care for the aged to his catalog of items he plugs with drumbeat persistence.

U.S. May Boost Laos Military Operations

Strikes Against N. Viet Nam Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The start of U.S. jet reconnaissance flights over Red - threatened Laos may be only the first of several actions enlarging American military operations in Southeast Asia, officials said today.

Faced with Communist advances posing increasingly serious threats to Laos and neighboring South Viet Nam, U.S. policymakers have been considering a wide variety of moves, including:

Strikes against North Viet Nam, dispatch of more air and sea power into the area, landing of forces in Thailand if the Thai government agrees such help is necessary, and direct military intervention in Laos itself.

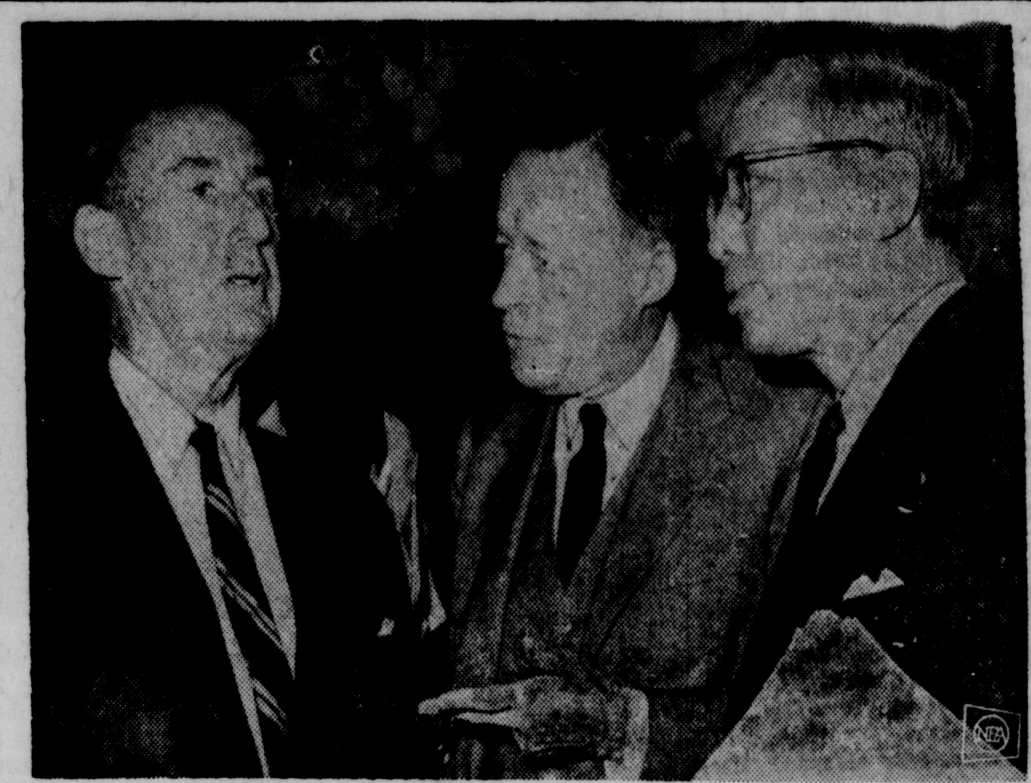

Further steps will be ordered, officials said, if the situation continues to deteriorate.

In another development, not necessarily connected with the Laotian crisis, a Navy carrier squadron has left the Indian Ocean and rejoined the main body of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Pacific, it was learned today. It brings to three the force of big attack carriers in Far Eastern waters.

Officials said they were not certain how quickly the confrontation in Southeast Asia would reach a showdown stage if diplomacy fails to find a way out of the present crisis.

Events could develop quickly, however, depending on what the Communists decide to do.

President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk were described as still hopeful that

Presbyterians Elect Negro

New York Minister Named Moderator

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Elder G. Hawkins nervously fingered the two silver crosses, fused and hung from a long chain around his neck.

"Yes, I'll march on the line again," he said, "if the occasion demands it. One belonging to a minority has a kind of special understanding of what happens."

His eyes glistened and he measured his words. Of the 3.3 million members of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., he is one of the 5 per cent who are Negroes; and the church's General Assembly had just elected him its moderator. For the first time, a Negro would be "chairman of the board" for a year and speak in unison with Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, the assembly's Stated Clerk and chief executive officer.

The Rev. Mr. Hawkins is 55, and in 26 years under his ministry St. Augustine Presbyterian Church in New York's Bronx has grown from nine members to more than a thousand. His election will be more eloquent than any sermon," said J. Vernon Lloyd, an attorney from Danville, Calif., who put Hawkins in nomination and later was appointed vice moderator.

"In this measure at least," said Dr. Blake, "we have become color blind. It marks the direction in which the church intends to go."

Awards To Be Presented

Senior Recognition Day Scheduled Thursday

Two new awards — one from Sears, Roebuck & Co., the other from the Danforth Foundation — will be presented with others of long-standing at the annual Senior Recognition Day next Thursday morning at an all-student assembly at the high school.

The Sears award will go to the top senior in distributive education, a program that has been dropped from the curriculum for next year. The Danforth prizes are books entitled "I Dare You," to be presented to the top boy and top girl in the 1964 class.

High school principal Wayne Grinnen will present the Danforth awards and Mrs. Phyllis Love, who has resigned as DE teacher, the Sears award.

Part of the ceremony will be the handing down of the "Key of Knowledge" from senior president Lee Schnell to the next year's senior class head. Juniors are expected to make their choice at an election next week before the recognition assembly.

The presentation of the yellow-gold honor cords to be worn by the top students on their mortarboards during baccalaureate and commencement exercises as a symbol of their scholarly prestige will be made by Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith. Assistant principal John Callahan will give State Department of Education awards to those pupils who followed a particular pattern of curriculum in high school; viz., four years of English, four of social studies and three each of foreign languages, science and mathematics.

Kennedy Grave

Almost 3 Million View JFK's Resting Place

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the six months since his death, kings, queens, presidents and an estimated 2,745,000 persons have climbed up the gentle slope to John F. Kennedy's grave.

Now and then members of the Kennedy family slipped in among the tourists who stand at the low white picket fence that encloses the gravesite in Arlington National Cemetery.

Such a one was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy who was seen at his brother's grave one afternoon this week before he left on a trip to Europe.

The family has not selected the final design for the monument to be erected. The President's widow still is receiving suggestions, a spokesman for her said today.

The eternal flame that marks the top of the level grave is expected to be incorporated into the permanent memorial. For now, it burns above a temporary base covered with an artificial green grass carpet—bright in the sunshine of the spring day and soft in the blue floodlights of the night.

During the winter, fresh green boughs covered the base. Each evening guards found among the boughs a few mementos tossed there—rosaries, crosses, sometimes bracelets and even dolls, probably put there by children.

But the bough dried out too fast in the warm spring days. The military caps and insignia that had lain there since the day of burial, last Nov. 2, had rotted in the rain and snow. They, too, were removed.

The caps and insignia and every article of permanent nature, including the ribbons and cards on the floral tributes, are sent to the White House for keeping until the Kennedy Memorial Library is completed.

The enclosed area is covered with the blue-green grass that President Kennedy loved — the kind he had put in the White House garden by his office and at the Virginia country home he didn't have much time to enjoy.

Each day, the base of the flame is covered with flowers, and wreaths line the fence. Some 15 wreath-laying ceremonies are arranged each day. It has become a custom for visiting foreign dignitaries to pay their respects at the grave

U.N. Studies Patrol Proposal

U.S. Suggests Viet, Cambodia Watch

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates today studied the possibility of the Security Council agreeing on U.S. proposals for the United Nations to sponsor military patrols along the troubled border between Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

Cambodia's representative at the U.N., Ambassador Voensai Sonn, told a reporter the suggestions for a U.N. watch on the frontier were "the really important part" of the policy speech that U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson made to the 11-nation council Thursday. He asked his government for comment.

Moroccan Ambassador Ahmed Taibi Benhima was in touch with other council delegates trying to find the basis for a resolution on the dispute.

The council meets again Monday.

Cambodia has charged that South Vietnamese troops, accompanied by U.S. officers, have been crossing into Cambodia and killing civilians. Sonn denied to the council Thursday that Communists fighting against the South Vietnamese government were using cam-

Art Display Scheduled Here

Pupils' Work on Exhibit Next Week

A huge display of art, including painting, drawing, industrial arts and metal work, is being readied for the annual show by Salem students, art instructor Janet Yereb announces.

The exhibition will open at the Senior High Friday evening, May 29, be closed for Memorial Day and re-open Sunday, May 31. The works will be by pupils in the five elementary schools, the junior high and senior high, Miss Yereb said.

"Parents and others in Salem can get an idea of what has been done the past year and what can be done with children guided in art and shop," she declared.

The exhibits will fill the school's hall from the gymnasium eastward, the student lounge and the cafeteria. In the teacher's dining room, tips will be given on launching a hobby or profession in art.

Students will also demonstrate techniques in oils, water colors and clay. Educational exhibits, prepared by both pupils and adults will be set up.

Many visitors who will attend the Spring Choral Concert May 29 are also expected to view the art exhibits before or after the singing program. The exhibits will open about 7 p.m. with no definite closing time on Friday. Viewing Sunday, May 31, will run from 2:30 to 6 p.m.

The lapse between public showings was arranged since many people are out-of-town on Memorial Day, Miss Yereb said.

underprivileged families and educational opportunity for their children."

Her speech, a plea for backing Johnson's war on poverty, was greeted with a standing ovation. It climaxed Mrs. Johnson's day, which closely paralleled a trip the late Eleanor Roosevelt made 26 years ago, when she was first lady.

Mrs. Johnson's biggest crowd gathered at the new Breathitt County Coliseum, a combination gymnasium for the high school and civic meeting place, which she dedicated, as Mrs. Roosevelt dedicated a WPA-built gym in 1938.

She gave her answer in a speech before an audience of 1,000 at a dinner of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in Lexington Thursday night.

Mrs. Johnson said she was glad some people were "suddenly worried" about her tenant farmers because "I've been worried about them for years."

"If there had been a poverty bill 30 years ago, those former cotton farmers would have been retrained to a new skill, rather than remaining on in an economy that time has passed by."

"The lasting answer to wiping out poverty in this country is not just charity," she said, "but a full-scale program to provide job opportunities for all."

Addresses University Graduates

LBJ Says U.S. Could Achieve 'Great Society'

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—President Johnson told 4,900 graduating students today that during their lives they "have the opportunity to move not only toward the rich society and the powerful society, but upward to the great society."

It will require, he said, the rebuilding of cities and countryside.

Johnson, in a philosophical speech prepared for commencement exercises at the University of Michigan, declared that the challenge of the next half century is whether the nation has the wisdom to use its wealth "to enrich and elevate our national life—and to advance the quality of American civilization."

"The great society," he said, "rests on abundance and liberty to poverty and racial injustice but that is just the beginning." Johnson pictured the great society as an affluent, cultured oasis, "where man can renew contact with nature" and where people "are more concerned with the quality of their goals than the quantity of their goods."

This would be a place, he said, of completely rebuilt cities, unspoiled countryside and bustling classrooms.

"In the next 40 years," he said, "we must rebuild the entire urban United States."

Johnson quoted the philosopher Aristotle that "men come together in cities in order to live, but they remain together in order to live the good life."

The President added: "It is harder and harder to live the good life in American cities."

Johnson planned to spend 2½ hours in Michigan, flying first from Washington to Detroit by jet, then changing to a helicopter for the hop to Ann Arbor to receive an honorary degree.

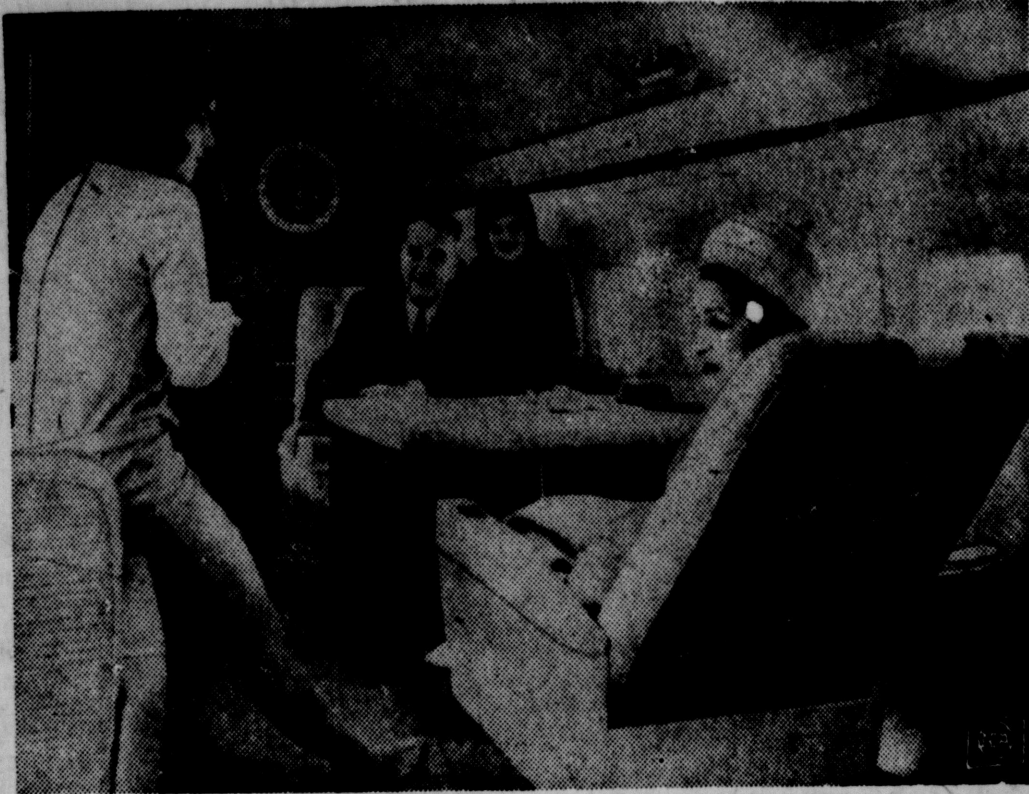

The President was due back in Washington in plenty of time for tonight's annual dinner of the White House Correspondents Association.

Johnson, in his Ann Arbor address, announced he will create working groups to prepare a series of conferences "on the cities, on natural beauty, on the quality of education, and on other emerging challenges."

The President added that solution of such problems would not rest "on a massive program in Washington" nor solely on the resources of local authority. He said there must be cooperation through "a creative federalism, between the national capital and the leaders of local communities."

"A second place where we begin to build the great society is in our countryside," he said. "We have always prided ourselves on being not only America the strong, but America the beautiful. Today that beauty is in danger."

Johnson said still another central issue of the great society is the creation of classrooms where "every young mind is set free to scan the farthest reaches of thought and imagination."

Use of Zip Code On Mail Stressed By Post Office

Postmaster Ray Reasbeck urges all Salemites to use Zip Code numbers on all their mail. He reports that a majority of patrons is using the five-digit Zip Code (44460) regularly on all correspondence and it has aided the Post Office clerks tremendously.

"It not only saves expenses," said the postmaster, "but it also speeds up the handling and delivery of mail." The local post office has had a 3 per cent increase in mail volume but a 5 per cent decrease in manpower necessary to process this mail.

Local business firms which originate 75 per cent of all letter mail are using Zip numbers on their outgoing letters and in their return addresses. This enables customers to become familiar with the proper number of local firms.

All patrons receiving their mail on Salem city delivery or rural routes have only one Zip Code number. It is 44460, which Reasbeck said is easy to remember.

A reminder slip will be distributed to every patron in the near future by postmen and rural carriers. "Everyone should keep this notice readily at hand," he said.

The Zip Code is to be used on the same line as the name of the city and state and immediately following the name of the state, if possible. The other alternative is to use it on a line immediately below the name of the city and state. This applies to use in your return address as well as in the actual address on the envelope or package, the postmaster said.

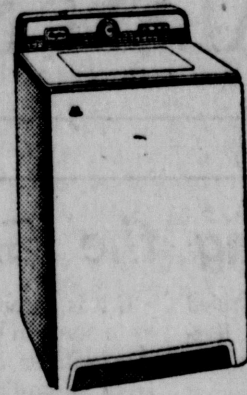

A recently-perfected device known as an Optical Scanner will soon be used in large Post offices throughout this country. This machine can read the Zip Code numbers and sort letters by these numbers. Thus, the Post Office will go to automation as the only way to avoid an increase in letter postage rates and to speed up handling the ever increasing workload. "Unless this Zip Code is put to work we may have a 15 cent letter postage rate at some future date."

Pennsy Bid to Cut Service Rejected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Railroad must continue to operate its three passenger trains between Cleveland and Pittsburgh on Saturdays and Sundays.

The railroad had sought to end the weekend trains, contending there would be little inconvenience to the public and an annual $48,668 savings to the railroad. The utilities commission dismissed the application Thursday.

EMISSARY — Paolo Cardinal Marella, above, 69, an Italian Roman Catholic cardinal who is a specialist in eastern religions, has been named to head a new Vatican Secretariat to promote closer relations with non-Christian religious groups.

Prote 'ing the Guilty

A federal judge in Philadelphia has ruled that prisoners may not be used in line-ups without their consent looks like another victory for the criminals.

Lenient positions by various judges are making the war on crime as frustrating as the war in Viet Nam.

The rights of the individual must be protected. The right to refuse to incriminate one's self by testifying under oath also is understood and respected.

But efforts of law enforcement officials to do their job by interpretation of individual rights under the Constitution are being hamstrung.

If it is unconstitutional to force a prisoner to stand in a line with other men to see if a witness can identify him, it would seem unconstitutional to take a prisoner's fingerprints without his consent.

The more police agencies are permitted to do to make guilty or innocent more definite, the better it is for society.

Lineups, lie tests, blood tests, search, fingerprints and other means of proving or disproving involvement in criminal behavior create hardship only for the guilty.

Standing in a lineup with others to see if a witness can pick out the person suspected of a crime is not unreasonable.

Abraham Lincoln's Dream

Henry J. Taylor has been slashing the hide off the GOP elephant for not taking the negative side on the civil rights debate.

The columnist points to this as proof the Republican party has an instinct for missing the boat. He is referring to the fact the civil rights bill is encountering opposition among whites and Republicans might exploit this fact.

This, together with evidence the Negro vote is sewed up permanently by the Democratic party in the big cities, seems to Mr. Taylor to justify a Republican strategy of opposing the bill while favoring civil rights in principle.

WE CAN AGREE this might be a shrewd political move, if viewed from the viewpoint of gambling on a vote windfall in specified areas, such as border states.

Faithful Servant

The saying, "cleanliness is next to Godliness," isn't actually scriptural, but Ross Clay, retiring custodian of the First Christian Church, has subscribed to that belief for the past half-century. The congregation of the church honored him the other evening for his 50 years of faithful, uninterrupted service as janitor of the church.

Some people are called to preach, others to direct a choir, teach or usher in church, but Ross excelled in his humble role and the community shares in his pride and knowledge of a job well-done.

Purely Personal

Progress Report: Out of 250 red maples planted this spring, I had 240 survivors, as of last count. I have not counted the Norway spruce and buckeye survivors yet but expect similar success with them. Never took a lesson in my life.

The principal result of longevity to date is an acute national problem of how to finance and regulate nursing homes.

I wish Sargent Shriver, who strikes me as an earnest man, would hurry up and admit there are Americans who are not going to be helped by the anti-poverty program he is administering. They are poor because they lack both essentials for improving their lot—mentality and ambition.

Aren't we putting ourselves in the position of demanding that Negroes be nearer perfect during their campaign to redress civil wrongs than whites ever tried to be while withholding their civil rights?

I can remember when kids mowed lawns because it was expected of them. Now, their fathers mow the lawns on toy tractors while the kids ride motor scooters and drive hot rods.

You never can tell where friendships are going to spring up, like the wonderful alliance between our oversized German shepherd and undersized Muttie, the dog that came to dinner. Muttie's head fits into the big dog's mouth. They play rough for hours and no one gets angry.

Fun is fun, and all is fair in war and politics, but how many tenants are living on the land of those two GOP congressmen who visited families living on the Johnson property in Alabama — at $75 a month, with shelter and gardening privileges included?

My idea of chucking the whole thing when spring fever overwhelms me is to go someplace and sit under a tree until time for the next meal. That would be long enough to cure me of all vernal lassitude.

The onrushing end of another school year reminds me of the two watches I received on graduating from high school and college. I never used them and to this day have no need for a watch. When I work, a clock is within view. When I'm not working I don't need to know what time it is. My time is my own.

I am forced to conclude there are experts and experts and many people who profess special competence actually have no competence at all but have been smart enough to keep it a secret.

One of my best laughs was a remark attributed to President Johnson when he referred to Defense Secretary McNamara as "that young fellow with the Sta-Comb," the name of a hair dressing popular when many of us bald eagles still had hair.

"I Could Use Some Advice, Champ!"

Hoffa Lieutenant Indicted

By VICTOR RIESEL
There is a startling letter in the possession of the Justice Department which will amaze the nation if it is made public.

Victor Riesel
whom Jim Hoffa transplanted to the Caribbean island to direct a multi-million dollar organizing drive.

There have been blood-slippery sidewalks where the Teamsters have picketed on the usually peaceful island and Chavez has boasted of his run-ins with the Puerto Rican police department's internal security division. This close lieutenant of Hoffa was picked up in '61 on charges of attempted murder, also on charges of carrying firearms.

Now the 37-year-old Teamsters, organizer — whose language would embarrass old sailors in a waterfront crimp house — also has run smack into trouble with the federal government.

Chavez has been accused by the Justice Department of stealing from nothing less than the International Brotherhood of Teamsters' national treasury. He and three others have been indicted on charges of fraudulently taking over $150,000.

Chavez and company were able to do this by faking applications submitted to the national Teamsters' office for strike relief, according to the indictment.

THE GOVERNMENT accusations indicate that Chavez ran ghost strikes with ghost pickets and then asked for strike relief for the wraiths. One strike, for example, against Gonzalez Chemical Industries actually ended on Aug. 18, 1960. But, according to the Justice Department, Chavez and his band reported to Teamsters national secretary-treasurer John English that the stoppage ran until Feb. 26, 1961.

Thus, the government charges, they were able to collect strike relief benefits on a non-existent strike for non-existent strikers for more than six months. The union's strike benefit rate is $2 a week after the first four weeks.

Six strikes altogether were involved in this alleged fraud which ran over a period of three years, the government states.

Where there actually was a strike, the indictment alleges, Chavez and the three others simply padded the number of strikers who were eligible for benefits. In this alleged effort to defraud the national union the Chavez group added from 15 to 20 names to the various strike relief lists. Thus at the rate of $25 a week the take could come to $500 a week for just one strike.

THERE WERE legitimate payments which brought the total strike benefits up to more than $500,000 in the three years. The government alleges, therefore, that about 30 per cent of this was taken by the Chavez group. These charges, though not publicized on the U. S. "mainland," have embarrassed the Teamsters' national office. The government is saying, in effect, that the $150,000 was paid without effective checks on the claims of its Puerto Rican area director.

The government charges that Chavez was able to defraud the national headquarters fund — which pays out well over $2 million a year in such benefits across the U. S. — 21 times. Each effort has been turned into an individual count punishable by five years imprisonment and a federal penitentiary if the accused are found guilty on each count.

NONE OF THIS has fazed Chavez, who has been accused of earlier attempting to kill a truck driver by tossing a "Molotov cocktail" into the truck cab. Fortunately it did not explode in time. His disdain for the authorities may come from the fact that he reports directly to his chief, Jim Hoffa.

During the McClellan committee rackets investigations, probers found a letter on the stationery of Local 901, headquarters in Santurce, in which Chavez wrote:

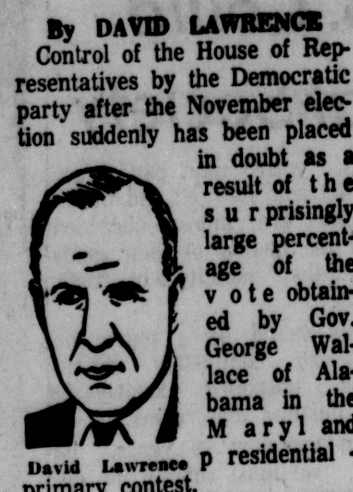

"The internal security division of Puerto Rico has paid me three visits after I respectfully refused a written invitation to appear at their offices. It is brutal, some of the questions they asked. For example, among others: (a) What are my intentions in Puerto Rico? (b) What are my political affiliations?"

"These fellows don't have a sense of humor. They reacted very violently when I answered in this way: (a) That my intentions were to give them a hosing. (b) That Stalin was my deceased grandfather."

Now that a Washington, D.C., grand jury has indicted Chavez, he may lose his sense of humor too.

We'll see when he comes up for trial shortly. Then there is a matter of the $150,000 which he, or some one in the organization, will have to repay if his group is found guilty. That should send him into hysterics.

Wallace's Vote

primary contest.

Apparently there is a sizable voter discontent on the civil rights issue not only in Maryland but in other states in the North. This could mean a big cross-over vote away from the party in power.

It's unfortunate, of course, when a color line is drawn in politics. But the realistic truth is that, in the State of Maryland, President Johnson's stand-in candidate was saved from defeat only by the Negro vote. While this is of help in a primary contest, it may work to the disadvantage of the Democratic party in the final elections.

Many of the seats in the House of Representatives were won in 1952 with narrow margins by Democrats. It would take a net shift of not more than 5 per cent of the votes to bring about the defeat of a number of incumbent Democrats who support the civil rights legislation.

Maryland is not the only state where the whites apparently have used a primary — election contest, such as was held this week, to register their objection to the civil rights legislation.

IT NOW has been disclosed by the Indiana Civil Rights Commission in a formal report that the biggest protest vote on the civil rights issue in the recent state presidential-primary balloting came from "white suburbia."

The statistics just made public show that in 25 of Indiana's 92 counties Gov. Wallace got a vote above his average for the state. In Marion County, where about one-third of Indiana's 300,000 Negroes live, the Wallace vote was 30.7 per cent of the Democratic vote but in the surrounding counties in Indiana, Gov. Wallace got from 32 per cent to 45 per cent of the vote.

So the Indiana election should not have been appraised merely by pointing to the state average for Wallace as only 29.9 per cent of the total Democratic vote, any more than the true meaning of the Maryland election is revealed today by noting that Gov. Wallace got nearly 43 per cent of the vote.

Actually, the Alabamans got more than 50 per cent of the vote in many counties in Maryland and ran strong in most areas except the City of Baltimore and Montgomery and Allegany Counties.

A PROTEST vote of large proportions, moreover, in particular districts can affect many a congressional contest without reference to how a state's electoral vote may be cast.

It would be a mistake to assume that this voter discontent has reached the peak of its strength. Intrusion by the government into private business and into family life, together with the possibility that the federal government now may become more active than before in breaking down school districts or in forcing the sale of homes to Negroes in neighborhoods previously all-white, has aroused fears.

These are not necessarily erased just because the pending federal legislation itself does not contain all of the controversial restrictions which are causing so much talk throughout the country.

Again and again, defenders of the civil rights bill have declared that there is much misinformation being circulated as to what the pending bill in the Senate actually contains. Undoubtedly the comments being made in many cases have gone beyond what is actually written in the bill. This does not mean that apprehension as to what can be added later, particularly in the state and local laws, has been removed.

THE MARYLAND contest is an eye-opener to Congress. Very few members will say for publication that the results will influence their attitude in the future but the more they learn about the latest developments in their own constituencies, the more they will discover that a substantial discontent has been aroused which has not been offset by any new political support.

Basically, the problem for many members of Congress has been complicated by the fact that the leaders in both the Republican and the Democratic party in the North have come out in favor of the civil rights legislation. So there has been no way offered the voter as yet to express discontent between parties. What Gov. Wallace has done is to afford an opportunity to the voters inside a party to speak their minds.

IT'S AN INDICATOR of future trends in the final election. A few years ago hardly anyone would have predicted that the governor of Alabama — whose state is a hotbed of opposition to forced desegregation — would come into the North and poll more than 40 per cent of the vote inside the Democratic party in some counties in such states as Indiana and Wisconsin and more than 50 per cent in 16 out of Maryland's 23 counties.

The current contests in the primaries are initial evidence that the United States will go through a political upheaval in the next several years as a consequence of the civil rights issue. Since it touches the home and family relationships, the neighborhood, the public schools and private business, the problem can produce an impact far more extensive than any single political issue has hitherto furnished for many a decade in American history.

Grocery Expansion Approved

Columbiana Zone Change Is Studied

By MRS. CHARLES WRIGHT

COLUMBIANA — Permission was granted to Glenn Crooks, owner-operator of Crooks Ideal Market at 787 Fairfield Ave. to extend the building he now occupies and enlarge the parking area at a public hearing Thursday at the Municipal Building.

Crooks was granted the permission with the provision that the premises be maintained in a clean and orderly manner for the protection of surrounding residents. Charles Fisher, a member of the Planning Commission, made the motion.

Several residents of the area were present, although not for the purpose of protesting the expansion proposed by Crooks. Also under consideration was an application by the planning commission to re-zone the territory from "A Limited Residential" to "A-1 Residential" as follows:

Commencing to the northeast corner of E. Southern Ave., east to the west line of Youngstown and Southern right-of-way, which point is also the corporation line, then southerly along the corporation line to Metz Rd., then west along the north line of Metz Rd. to Middleton Rd., then northerly along the east line of Middleton Rd. to the place of beginning.

Publication of the proposed rezoning was in error, according to an explanation by Mayor Lee Harold preceding the hearing. Reading "west along the north line of Metz Rd. to the Fairfield Rd.," a correction was made to read "from Metz Rd. to Middleton Rd."

Residents present at the meeting stated they were confused by the publication and wanted it cleared up for them. The group suggested the entire annexation be made A-1 residential, in which case a public hearing would be necessary in the event businesses would seek to establish in that area.

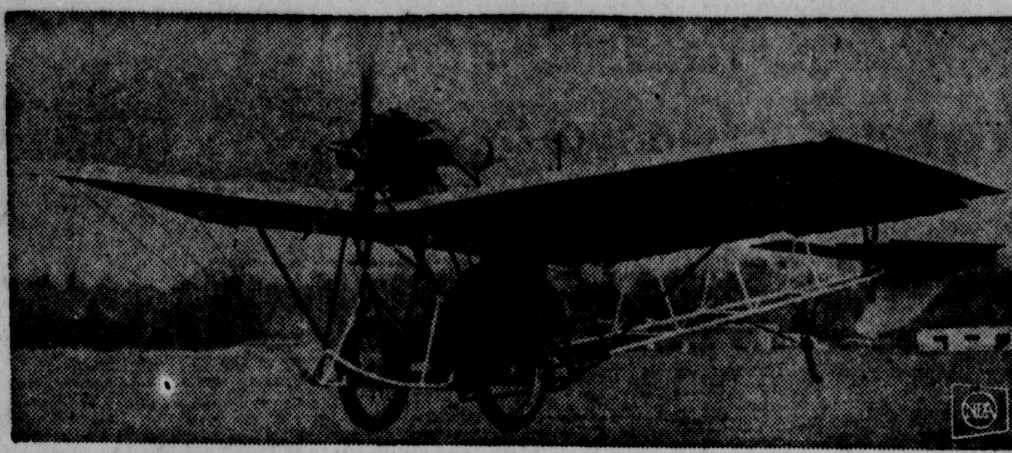

The planning commission composed of Mayor Harold, Fisher, Ray Spiker and William Zellers, council's representative, demurred from the proposed saying more study was required before the remaining area included in the annexation could be considered for re-zoning.

Final approval for the re-zoning of the area was given via a motion made by Spiker.

AN OPEN HEART operation on Mrs. James Ruhl of Columbiana at St. Vincent Charity Hospital in Cleveland Wednesday was termed a success by the doctors who reported that she is recovering.

Southern Local's Levy Expense Listed

The Southern Local Teachers' Association spent $131.30 in support of an 8.8-mill operating levy that was rejected by the school district's voters at the primary election May 5, according to a statement of campaign expenditures on file today with the County Election Board.

The report was filed by Jack Baker, executive head of the school district, as chairman of the teachers' association.

Meanwhile, the Board of Education of the Columbiana Village School District reported it spent $19.83 in support of a 3-mill levy which was approved.

Robert Bell of Steubenville reported he spent nothing in an unopposed bid for 18th District delegate to the Republican National Convention. Bell also is 18th District state central committeeman of his party.

June 19 at 4 p.m. is the deadline for the reports required of all candidates, as well as from individuals and committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Baptists Reject Endorsement of Church Integration

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Southern Baptists have rejected an endorsement of church integration and left the issue up to member churches.

"It is our conviction that the final solution to these problems must come on the local level," said a policy statement adopted Thursday by messengers (delegates) to the Southern Baptist Convention, largest Protestant body in the United States.

In contrast, the American (Northern) Baptist Convention was expected to approve a resolution today calling for participation in demonstrations for civil rights and support of the civil rights bill pending in the Senate.

The conventions, holding separate meetings, both planned to take up proposals opposing any change in the U.S. Constitution because of the school prayer controversy.

Both groups, together with five other Baptist denominations, join in a program celebrating their 150th anniversary today.

Safe Containing $108,000 Stolen In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—A gunman wearing gray work clothes took a 500-pound safe containing about $108,000 in negotiable bonds and cash from a home in the fashionable Gold Coast section on the west side.

The robber fled late Thursday after handcuffing 77-year-old Mrs. Walter J. Mueller to a piano bench in a basement recreation room of her 1½-story ranch house.

Police believe someone helped the gunman carry the heavy safe up the stairs. They said the intruder got in by posing as a telephone repairman.

Mrs. Mueller, alone in the house at the time, is the wife of 78-year-old Walter J. Mueller, owner of a downtown tire company bearing his name.

Walter Mueller, 36, of suburban Rocky River, a son, found his mother when he stopped for a visit around 5:30 p.m. He summoned police. He said the securities were negotiable Ohio Turnpike bonds.

Minor Judiciary Post To Be Filled

The so-called non-partisan filing deadline on Aug. 5 apparently will affect only one office in Columbiana County, a minor judiciary post, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk.

The expiring term is held by County Judge James L. MacDonald, whose court is at Lisbon. The hold-overs, elected two years ago for four-year terms, are Judge Herbert Arfman and Judge Luther Donbar. Judge MacDonald was elected to the lone two-year term at the same time.

The post pays $4,901, which makes a candidates' filing fee $24.51, O'Hanlon said. A minimum of 257 signatures is required on a nominating petition. It represents one per cent of the vote cast in the County Court District, which is comprised of the entire county aside from East Liverpool and Liverpool Township. The city and the adjoining township comprise the East Liverpool Municipal Court district.

O'Hanlon reminded prospective candidates that they must use a new form of nominating petition prescribed by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown following action of the 105th General Assembly. Forms prescribed by Brown prior to 1963 cannot be used, he warned.

Total cost of the planning for Geneva is estimated at $14,320, and at New Boston, $11,680.

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant
MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

With spring definitely here and daylight-saving time close by, you know that summer can't be far behind.

For the average woman, spring and summer together mean more than just a change of seasons. These seasons mean a change of everything — wardrobe, make-up and living habits. Where the artificial heat of winter has taken its toll of your complexion oils, wait until you start worshipping the summer sun!

In addition, you're already beginning to notice that those pale lipstick shades worked so well with basic blacks and winter darks don't look exactly right with the new bright spring colors or early-summer beiges.

It's time to turn to new make-up, new double triple-creamy lipstick.

Blush rouge is back, creamy and one-color pink, but not until your complexion is really clear, your facial skin miraculously stimulated, your foundation base color changed to match your new sun-kissed look. You know by now what we mean by the three steps to beauty. If you don't, please beauty or write me, care of this newspaper, and let me help you to your new spring-into-summer look.

With the new double triple-creamy lipsticks, it's easy to learn how to acquire that "new mouth" look the high-fashion magazines are talking about.

Select your summer lipstick wardrobe carefully, with this in mind — and then use a lipstick brush to trace your mouth into a warm natural shape. Let me show you how — free. And if you're changing your wardrobe into a whole new spectrum of coordinated colors, remember to coordinate your make-up too.

Please do call me, or write to me, and let me help you... with a free hour of beauty.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Six months ago I married a West Point graduate who has made the Army his career. This is a second marriage for us both. His two sons by his first wife do not speak to him, and I'm afraid he is building an equally poor relationship with my son.

Leslie is 12, a fine student, good athlete and gets along well with people. He adored his father who died three years ago but he has accepted my second husband beautifully. When I asked Leslie how he felt about my remarrying he replied, "You need a husband and I will do my best to like him." I thought this was very good for a 12-year-old.

My husband insists that Leslie say "no, sir" and "yes, sir." Every Friday he inspects the boy's closet, drawers and clothing, and gives him demerits if everything isn't perfect. He also gives demerits for poor posture.

I know discipline is important but my husband is so stern with the boy I'm afraid there will be no affection—only fear. Please comment.—M.D.G.

Dear M.D.G.: Discipline IS important, but it must be balanced with justice and love. A cold, commanding father may get perfection, but unless he gives warmth as well as orders his son will hate him. Apparently your husband didn't learn much from his earlier failures as a father. Suggest that he cut out the "no, sir" and "yes, sir" before the boy gets an "ul-sir." He needs some outside help in understanding his role as a father.

Third Degree

Dear Ann: I've been going with a man for several months. We are not children. I'm 29 and Donald is 34. He was married once but it didn't work out.

Last night for the first time Donald talked to me seriously about marriage. He pulled a slip of paper from his pocket and proceeded to ask me some questions. Here they are:

1. Have you had your appendix out?
2. Are your teeth in good condition?
3. Do you have any outstanding debts?
4. Do you have any money saved?

I asked him what the third degree was all about. He said his first wife clipped him for an appendectomy, $500 worth of dentistry and $250 in back bills for the first year they were married. He doesn't want to get mixed up in anything like that again.

What do you think about a man who would ask such questions?—FLOORED.

Dear Floored: I think you don't need a goof like this for a husband. Tell him to run an ad.

"When you can hear your neighbor's rooster crow, it's time to move," said Choate, 52.

Last May, Choate sold the seven sections of land on which he had ranched for 27 years near Miles City, Mont. He leased 265,000 acres from Uncle Sam on Unalaksla Island, near the head of the Aleutian chain.

The rancher bought the Robert Eugene here. He put two decks in below the main deck, built pens for the stock and installed a ventilation system. Rugs were put down to keep the horses from slipping on the wooden decking, and the bulkheads were padded with mattresses.

Choate hired Jack Graham, a veteran of Alaskan waters, as skipper.

Poor Relief Not Uniform, Figures Show In District

Poor relief is not made available uniformly to the poor throughout Ohio.

Where a needy person or family lives will determine the amount of the relief grants or whether aid will be given at all.

These are the findings of a survey by the Ohio Citizens' Council for Health and Welfare, a state wide research and planning organization financed by United Funds and Community Chests of about 60 Ohio cities.

In October 1963 Mahoning county provided $110 and Columbiana County, $150 to a family of five with children ages three, five and seven, the father unemployed but able-bodied and the mother in home. Rent is $60 for five rooms, unfurnished with heat and utilities extra.

A childless couple ages 50 to 60, both able-bodied but unemployed with rent of $40 for two unfurnished rooms and heat and utilities extra received $84 a month in Mahoning County compared to $92 a month in Columbiana County during October, 1963.

A single man age 64 with rent of $30 for one room with cooking privileges received $47 a month in Mahoning County or $52 a month in Columbiana County during October, 1963.

bodia as a sanctuary.

Stevenson insisted they were and said "this is the real reason for troubles on the Cambodian border." He admitted that an American adviser was with the South Vietnamese on one of the three border crossing Cambodia cited to the council. Pham Khac Rau of South Viet Nam said his country's troops had made an "occasional inadvertent crossing in pursuit of their enemies."

Stevenson made three alternative suggestions:

1. That the council ask Cambodia and South Viet Nam to establish a joint military force to patrol the frontier and report to U.N. Secretary - General U Thant;

2. That the force be given U.N. observers or a U.N. Command;

3. That it be "an all - U.N. force."

He said the United States would contribute part of the cost of a U.N. force.

Sonn pressed for a new Geneva conference to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality and territorial integrity, but Stevenson said: "There is no need for another such conference. A Geneva conference on Cambodia could not be expected to produce an agreement any more effective than the agreement we already have."

The Vietnamese representative renewed his government's proposal for direct border talks between Cambodia and South Viet Nam. But Sonn brushed off that proposal.

The U.S. ambassador charged that North Vietnamese Communists, helped by the Chinese Communists, were trying to overthrow the governments of South Viet Nam and Laos.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko derided Stevenson's speech as an exercise in "studied stupidity." Stevenson responded by including the Soviet Union in his charges. Soviet policy, he said, "explicitly supports the overthrow of national governments of newly independent states."

The private reaction of many diplomats was that Stevenson's address was good as far as it went but did not live up to its billing as "an extremely important speech."

diplomatic pressures on the Communist powers and the prospect of greater U.S. military involvement in the area would cause the Communists to stop their offensive campaign against the forces of the neutralist Laotian government.

The reconnaissance flights were announced by the State Department Thursday after Peking Radio broadcast a report that Communist Pathet Lao troops had fired on two U.S. jet planes flying over the Plain des Jarres.

The State Department said the United States had undertaken the reconnaissance flight in response to a request from the Laos government.

A spokesman declared that the information gained from the flights would be turned over both to the Laotian government and to the International Control Commission, formed by India, Canada and Poland. The commission has the task of supervising the international agreement under which Laos was neutralized in 1962.

Rabies Cases In Ohio Show Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Emmett W. Arnold, Ohio health director, said today animal rabies is continuing at a fairly high rate in Ohio in 1964 with 122 cases reported to date from 39 counties.

Animal rabies began to increase in Ohio in 1962 and 1963 after hitting a 40-year low of only 77 cases in 1961. The total of confirmed cases was 395 in 1962 and 320 in 1963.

Dr. Arnold said rise of rabies in the skunk population had much to do with the increase, with only 28 skunk cases in 1961 but 314 in 1962 and 257 in 1963. Skunks account for 85 of the cases so far this year.

He added that incidence of rabies in foxes seems to be mounting this year, with 20 cases reported to date. Heaviest concentration of rabies cases this year has been in Gallia County with infections of 5 skunks, 4 foxes and 1 cow. Other counties with four or more cases include Fulton, Morgan, Richland, Washington, Hamilton, Fairfield, Fayette and DeFiance.

are under attack from some of the Presbyteries for their part in racial demonstrations. Dr. Blake was arrested near Baltimore almost a year ago in a march on a segregated amusement park. And the Rev. Mr. Hawkins joined in demonstrations at a diner in the Bronx.

"We have a long way to go," the new moderator said, "and my first concern is to bring all the resources of our church to bear for the passage of the civil rights bill stalemated in the Senate."

The fused Celtic crosses he fingered are a talisman of another major concern. The Presbyterian Church of Scotland gave the crosses several years ago to the moderators of the three main Presbyterian branches in the United States.

Two were fused after the merger which resulted in the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1958. The other is held by the moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S., the dominant body in the South.

The Rev. Mr. Hawkins, elected moderator Thursday, received 465 of the 833 votes in a contest with the Rev. A. Ray Cartledge of Erie, Pa.

The assembly continues through Thursday.

The prosecutor said, however, that teachers over that age can be hired on a year-to-year basis. The opinion was requested by the board at an earlier meeting in order to formulate school policy.

Aussies Indignant, Judy Locks Self In Hotel Room

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Judy Garland locked herself in her hotel today after her Australian concert tour ended in a chorus of public indignation.

Her 21 pieces of luggage packed, the singer was scheduled to leave for Hong Kong although she canceled two early flights.

Miss Garland refused to accept any calls in her penthouse suite and a guard stood outside.

"Why would Judy want to see anyone in Sydney after this dreadful thing in this morning's paper?" asked Karl Brent, her manager.

"Judy would like to punch a few Sydney people on the nose." Jeered during a concert she cut short in Melbourne on Wednesday night, Miss Garland continued to draw critical comments for her performance at the Melbourne airport Thursday.

Sydney newspapers gave frontpage display to stories of how she shouted "No, no!" as she was pushed aboard the plane by actor Mark Herron her traveling companion, and three airport officials.

"She had been talking to fans and kissing babies," Brent said. "Her skirt started to slip a little. Judy turned round to fix it up. That was all there was to it. That is why it might have appeared she was hustled aboard the plane."

The plane left 10 minutes late because of Miss Garland's tardiness.

Miss Garland's musical director, Mort Lindsay, and jazz trumpeter Pete Condoli left Australia Thursday night.

"From now on so far as Miss Garland is concerned, that's it," said Condoli. "No more for me."

Johnson's approach to pressing his programs. He summed it up like this when he was discussing the poverty program before a New York audience:

"We are going to strike the hammer of truth against the anvil of public opinion — again — and again — and again — until the ears of this nation are open and the conscience of America is awake."

Unquestionably, domestic concerns have dominated Johnson's public utterances during the past six months. But problems abroad have multiplied, in Panama, Cuba, South Viet Nam, Laos.

Criticism of his record has centered on his conduct of foreign affairs. The allegation heard most often is that the President's interest in this area — and his knowledge of it — is limited and contributes to stagnation, unimaginative policy.

Johnson bristles at this, arguing that he has a strong background in foreign affairs and devotes a great proportion of his time to them.

At home and abroad, the great compromiser of the 1950s has emerged in six action-packed months as a man of unyielding force. The next six months will determine how well the voters like the new Lyndon Johnson.

of the assassinated president. A dramatic moment came last month when former President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela brought his wraith of white flowers.

Mrs. Kennedy had written him a letter just before his term ended in February, saying that during his life, President Kennedy had been concerned about the security of Betancourt, who had survived five assassination attempts.

It was a moving letter. And it was a moving moment when Betancourt stretched his trembling hands over the grave. There on one hand were the scars from the burns he had received during one of the attempts on his life.

Trailer Fire Near Lisbon Is Checked

LISBON — Minor damage to mattress and clothing at the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rankin Jr., two miles south of Lisbon on the old Steubenville Road, across from Ohio Bell telephone tower, was reported by village firemen who made the run Thursday at 1:12 p.m.

Alex Davis, a neighbor, was getting ready to leave for work when he saw smoke come out of the Rankin trailer, broke open the door and pulled out the mattress and clothing and extinguished it before firemen arrived.

Mrs. Rankin was visiting her mother at the time.

Beloit Awaits State Word On Sewage Plant

BELOIT — Action on the location and construction of Beloit's new sewage treatment plant will hinge on the recommendations of the State Board of Health, it appeared today following a public meeting Thursday night, attended by 45 persons.

Mayor William Eshelman and village councilmen also were present.

A petition with 220 signatures was presented by Atty. Richard Kennedy of Lisbon which asked that the proposed location of the plant on Derr Ave. be changed to a location outside the corporate limits.

Mayor Eshelman said that nothing further will be done on the project, pending the arrival of the State Board of Health's recommendation.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: There is a wet spot in one small area of our basement, at a point where the floor and wall meet. I have been told that an epoxy-type water-proof sealant will correct the condition. How is this used?

ANSWER: Brush away all loose paint and crumbling cement from the wet section. If there are any cracks, widen them with a chisel until they are at least one-quarter inch deep. Brush a heavy coat of sealant into the crack. Mix some sand with more sealant until a putty-like consistency is reached, then pack the crack with the mixture. As a final step, apply sealant (without sand) six inches up the wall and six inches out along the floor.

Mays Shakes Slump With 2 Homers In Giants' Win

Pirates Lose 3-1 To Colts

Koufax Fans 11 As LA Whips Mets 6-1

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Move over Willie. Here comes Billy.

Forget it Willie. There goes Billy.

That's how fast the National League batting lead changed hands Thursday as Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs boosted his average to .402 and took over the top spot held by San Francisco's Willie Mays since April 22.

Hitless in 10 at-bats, Mays broke out of his slump by tagging his 15th and 16th homers and powering the Giants to a 9-4 victory over Philadelphia that lifted San Francisco back into first place. Mays' 2-for-4 performance left him with a .397 average.

Williams, meanwhile, stroked two singles and a double in four at-bats during the Cubs' 10-3 loss to St. Louis, finally overcoming a Mays' lead that stood at 177 points less than a month ago.

Williams began Operation Overhaul on April 29 when he was hitting .311 and Mays was batting .488. Since then, Williams has been on a 19-game tear, swinging at a .458 clip, while Mays has hit a more-than-respectable .346 but still lost 91 points off his average.

In the other two games scheduled, pitchers stole the spotlight. Dick Farrell tied San Francisco's Juan Marichal for the most victories in the majors by winning his sixth in Houston's 3-1 triumph over Pittsburgh and Sandy Koufax struck out 11 in the Los Angeles Dodgers' 6-1 triumph over the New York Mets.

The Phillies and Giants were tied 4-4 in the fifth when Mays and Orlando Cepeda took over. Mays, who homered with one on in the first inning, snapped the tie with a solo shot and Cepeda put it out of reach by connecting after a walk to Willie McCovey. Mays and Cepeda each drove in three runs.

Richie Allen homered for the Phillies, who were stopped on one hit over the last six innings by reliever Bob Bolin.

Williams, battling to become the first Cub to win the batting title since Phil Cavaretta in 1945, led a 12-hit attack against Ray Sadecki, but the Cardinals had the power.

Tim McCarver and Bill White each tagged two-run homers and Doug Clemens smacked a bases-loaded triple. With that support, Sadecki went all the way, squaring his record at 3-3 with his third straight victory.

Farrell, bringing his record to 6-1, needed Hal Woodeshick's relief help in the ninth after Bill Virdon and Jerry Lynch opened with singles. Woodeshick got Roberto Clemente to hit into a doubleplay and struck out Gene Friesse to end the threat.

The Colts got all the runs they needed in the fourth against Vern Law, now 1-4, scoring twice on singles by Nellie Fox, Walt Bond and Mike White plus an error by Lynch on the last hit.

Koufax brought his record to 4-3 and struck out 10 or more in one game for the 3rd time in his career. The record for 10-strikeout performances is 54, held jointly by Rube Waddell and Bob Feller. Koufax was touched for seven hits by the Mets.

Tommy Davis went 3-for-3 for the Dodgers while Jim Gilliam and Frank Howard each collected two hits. Koufax contributed to his own cause, singling in the fifth inning and starting a four-run rally.

Former pitcher Paul Minner was added to the Chicago Cubs coaching ranks this spring.

Tobin Rote, quarterback for the San Diego Chargers, played his first pro football game in 1950.

Pair of 2-Hit Pitching Jobs Features City Softball Action

A pair of two-hit pitching performances, followed by a wide-fast pitch softball action at Kelley Field Thursday night.

Bob Carbaugh started the activity as he tossed the first shutout of the campaign in Old Dutch's 10-0 triumph of Moose 571.

John Moulin, veteran Gold Bar pitcher, set down Willy's Bait Shop with two singles while his teammates romped 9-1.

In an extra inning, the Salem Merchants picked up a run in the bottom of the 10th to outlast Fernengel's for an 11-10 victory.

TONIGHT'S CHURCH league card has been postponed so that many of its players can attend the Salem Senior High School prom.

Carbaugh gave up a hit to Paul Paster in the second inning and the final single by the fourth.

Although he failed to get a hit, Dick Youngpeter scored three times for Old Dutch. The winners took a 6-0 lead in the initial inning.

It was a weird frame which saw five batters reach base on walks. There were three wild pitches, three stolen bases, a pair of sacrifices, a fielder's choice, a single by Roger Stitt and an inside-the-park home run by Carbaugh.

Bob Stallsmith hit a triple, and Jim Stonemetz rapped a double for Old Dutch's other extra-base hits.

Carbaugh struck out 10 and

Senators' Daniels Off To Fastest Start In Career Posts 5th Victory

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bennie Daniels, who used to throw bee bees, has switched to baseballs and is off to the best start of his unspectacular major league career.

Daniels, 31-year-old right-hander of the Washington Senators, joined Dave Wickersham of Detroit and Minnesota's Camilo Pascual as the American League's winningest pitchers, picking up his fifth victory in the Senators' 8-2 triumph over the Tigers Thursday.

His victory total equals the number of games he won last season when he didn't gain a triumph until June 27.

Daniels needed relief help from Jim Duckworth in the Tigers only four hits as he reduced his earned-run average to 2.94. He now has permitted one earned run in 152-3 innings.

Daniels never has reached the potential others thought he had when he joined the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1957. He pitched in four seasons with the Pirates but won only eight games while losing 16.

However, he was so fast it was said he threw bee bees.

Daniels won 12 games for the Senators in 1961, his career high, but won progressively fewer games the next two years. In 1962, for example, he won on opening day, then lost 10 in a row.

In other AL games, Baltimore outlasted Kansas City 7-6 despite Manny Jimenez' grand slam home run and Boston nipped Los Angeles 8-7.

The Senators provided Daniels with early support, scoring three runs in the first inning against Jack Hamilton in his first American League game. Chuck Hinton's double and Jim King's single sent home two of the runs. Hinton singled across two more runs in Washington's three-run seventh.

Ed Brinkman homered in the eighth for the Senators while Gates Brown connected in the first for Detroit. The Tigers added an unearned run in the sixth. The Orioles led 7-2 going into the Athletics' eighth. Wally Bunker, who had scattered four hits, gave up singles to Nelson Mathews and Ed Charles before walking Jim Gentile.

Stu Miller came on for the 16th time this season and got Rocky Colavito on a fly ball. Jimenez then smashed his homer, cutting Baltimore's lead to a run.

Colavito homered in the fourth, tying Harmon Killebrew for the AL lead with 11. Brooks Robinson drove in three runs and Boog Powell two for Baltimore.

The Red Sox eased by the Angels on a hit batsman and Carl Yastrzemski's triple to center field in the sixth off reliever Willie Smith.

The Angels tied the game 7-7 with five runs in the fifth. Arnold Earley walked in two of the runs. Frank Malzone singled home two Boston runs in the five-run second, and Ed Bresnold slammed a two-run homer in the fourth.

Indians Start Series With Detroit Tonight

Kralick Goes After No. Four Cleveland's Winningest Hurler

CLEVELAND (AP) — Left-hander Jack Kralick says he honestly doesn't know why he's become the Cleveland Indians' No. 1 pitcher this season.

"As far as I know, I'm still pitching the same as I always have," the soft-spoken southpaw said Thursday. "I haven't developed any new pitches, and I still rely mainly on my fast balls and still throw a curve, slider, and changeup."

Catcher John Romano attributed Kralick's 3-0 record to excellent control — putting his pitches where he wants to on each batter.

"Jack moves the ball around well and is sneaky fast," said Romano. "He never gives them a good pitch to hit."

Kralick, a native of Youngstown who learned his baseball on the sandlots in Detroit, will try to break the Tribe's three-game losing streak tonight. He'll oppose Detroit's Hank Aguirre (1-0) in the opener of a four-game series.

The 170-pound, 6-foot-2 Kralick is not only Cleveland's winningest pitcher but the most effective. His earned run average of 1.12 is among the best in the American League. He has struck out 33 and walked 10 in 48 1-3 innings. He's also the only Indians' hurler to go the route in the last 15 games.

Middleweight Champ Risks Title Tonight Giardello, Rivero Meet 2nd Time In 35 Days In TV Bout

By BARRY DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — Rarely does a fighter get to show what he can do against the world's champion twice in 35 days.

Rocky Rivero, the Argentine middleweight king, gets a chance tonight to do what he failed to do here April 17—beat middleweight champion Joey Giardello.

Tonight's nationally televised (ABC) non-title rematch is scheduled for 10 rounds, starting at 9 p.m., EST. Their furious first encounter ended in a split-decision victory for Giardello, a single point being the difference.

Rivero, 27, started slowly last time but finished stronger. After the fight he was almost unmarked and said, "I could go another 20 rounds."

Although the ring-wise world champion never has been counted out, Rivero has predicted he will score a knockout within six rounds.

Giardello, at 33 a little more conservative, hedged on the possibility of flattening his 5-foot-8 opponent.

"He's never been knocked out, but there's always a first time," the champion said after Tuesday's workout.

Rivero, who weighed 169 for the previous fight, said he expects to scale in at 162 this time.

The fight at Cleveland Arena, could be instrumental in landing Rivero a shot at the title. Matchmaker Larry Atkins said he is discussing with Michael Del Cola, Giardello's legal adviser, the possibility of a championship fight here in August. If Rivero wins tonight, Atkins wants him for the challenger.

Giardello has a 92-22-7 record. Rivero owns a 41-10-1 mark.

In the 10-round semifinal, Amos Johnson, Medina, Ohio, meets Cody Jones, Detroit, in a heavyweight match. In another 10-rounder, heavyweight Billy Joiner, Cincinnati, and Oren Johnson, New York, will tangle.

Duden, Pro-Golfer 14-Years, Eyes 1st Win In Memphis Open

By VAN SAVELL

MEMPHIS (AP)—Bob Duden hasn't won a golf tournament in 14 years on the pro circuit, but you wouldn't believe it after his last 36 holes.

The veteran from Portland, Ore., who uses his bent-shaft putter like a croquet mallet, has everything but a hole-in-one to his credit. Duden had a 68 Wednesday, including a double eagle, an eagle and a triple bogey. That was only a preview. Duden fired a five-under-par 65 Thursday and took the first-round lead in the $50,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament. He had five birdies and 13 par holes.

Trailing the 43-year-old Duden by one stroke with 66s were pre-tournament favorite Arnold Palmer, Gene Littler, Gay Brewer and young Paul Bondeson. Bruce Devlin, Mason Rudolph and Doug Sanders were bunched at 67.

Defending champion Tony Lema, his ailing back much improved, had a 68. Jack Nicklaus, unable to recover from a double bogey first hole, shot a 2-over-par 72.

In all, 33 golfers broke par over the 6,466-yard, par 34-36-70 Colonial Country Club course. There were 15 others bunched at 70. The first cut will be made today with the low 80 going in Saturday's round. The low 60 will go in Sunday's final round with $7,500 going to the winner.

No Sweet Talk

A TV journalist named Stephen Fleischman was talking about an ABC News special he's produced for viewing this Friday night.

"The Great Divide: Civil Rights and the Bill" — when the question of balance came up. "Balanced?" he said. "If you have a 100 per cent balanced show on civil rights, you've got nothing. There can be no balance between morality and immorality. Sure, we hear from Sens. Stennis of Mississippi and Kuchel of California, the Attorney General and Gov. Wallace, Jim Farmer of CORE and some White Citizens Councils. And there's Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, who won't sit down with a Negro on any bi-racial commission because the moment he does he 'changes things.' But we don't have the usual Southern man — on the street with sweet talk about being a segregationist and making it sound so reasonable.

"THE SUBJECT IS, of course, so massive that unless you focus on one aspect of it and not go all over the lot—schools, housing, jobs—you'll wind up with a bunch of clichés, and avoiding clichés is a problem.

"What we're setting out to do here is dramatize fully the six titles of the bill, and that's all we do. Ed Morgan comes on at the end with a Congressional 'think piece,' and we're through. The action is pretty much confined to Mississippi, where the bill is needed most, Memphis, where immense bi-racial progress has been made, and Chicago and New York, where the Negro is getting damned restless under the white power structure."

FLEISCHMAN, a newcomer to ABC who produced "The Harlem Temper" among other programs for "CBS Reports" last year, was asked about that temper today. He replied with a brief description of one segment of Friday's program that fastens on a recent James Farmer speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

"We've got a good, tight shot of Farmer in which his words, about the anger, frustrations, and feeling of the Negro, really leap out at you. Then we switch to a couple of emotional, militant Negroes — Thelma Johnson in New York and Lawrence Landry in Chicago, threatening the older civil rights leaders, the Farmers, the Wilkineses, and Whitney Youngs.

"Landry, in what may be the high spot of the show, says he's not out to alienate the masses of people. He says he heard that 'white people are getting fed up with us.' He says, 'Let me tell you I'm fed up with them, all my life.' Then we cut back to Farmer as he says that if we allow the polarization of blacks against whites, we're in serious trouble."

As Fleischman's first project for ABC, the rights-bill documentary has been a rather frenzied assignment. Shooting started April 13, and the 150,000 feet of 35 mm. film — running time, 25 hours — was in hand May 1, giving Fleischman only two weeks to grab "15 seconds here and 30 seconds there into a meaningful, honest report." During the "pulling together" of the Fleischman program, he said, "my wife throws me out of the house." Afterward, "there's the let-down, a real depression."

AS HAS BEEN evident in his past work ("Birth Control and the Law," "The Teen-Age Smoker," reports on Brazil and Nigeria) Steve Fleischman prefers his documentaries direct, untricky, fast-moving. He steers clear of "people lined up at a desk, ready to say their peace" (the way of "CBS Reports"), of a "soundtrack that's diddling with music all the time" (NBC news specials), or "that nice moody stuff that John Secondari does so brilliantly" ("Close-Up"). And he wouldn't for the world end a report, as many documentarians do, with a "bull session around a table." "I've got no time to waste," he says, "I've got to keep the thing moving."

He's already stirring into action a trio of documentaries for the fall — on air pollution, cybernation, and capital punishment. About the Death Row prisoner in the last-named project, who will go nameless just now, Fleischman said, "He is the most eloquent, poetic man I've ever listened to in my life. He says things that tear your heart out. That guy has to be saved. If he's killed, it's a desecration."

PLANT IN OPERATION

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — With a push of a button, Lima's new $3.2-million water treatment plant went into operation Thursday. City Utilities Director Sharon D. Bresler presided at the dedication ceremonies which also included a tour of the facility. When in full operation, the plant will supply Lima with about 30 million gallons of water a day—more than double the present capacity.

Human Panic Button

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If day-dreams came true overnight, half the people in America would probably wake up tomorrow as movie stars.

For some reason they feel the life of a movie star is romantic and glamorous.

To me it seems just the opposite. I think it would be a big fat bore. I'd rather be a banker, an undertaker or a successful burglar.

In the popular mind, a movie star dwells in an atmosphere of wine and roses and goes through the world on a wave of general adulation amid the music of applause.

Actually, no matter how assiduously studio underlings cur-cycomb his vanity, a movie star is less of a god than he is a human panic button.

Being a star isn't a freedom. It's a kind of imprisonment.

The moment an actor becomes a star his ordeal begins. His success brings him no self-confidence. It operates the other way. Success tends to make him a coward. He thought clawing his way to the top was hard. But he finds staying there is even more difficult.

"You're only as good as your last picture," is the industry dictum that haunts his nights and days.

Admittedly the take-home pay of a movie star is some compensation for the emotional bruises he suffers, but his career woes are many.

My disillusionment with the life of movie idols came with my first visit to Hollywood. I went to a set where Cary Grant, Ethel Barrymore and a bulldog were making a film.

It was a long and wordy scene during which all the bulldog had to do was get up and walk across the set, on cue.

But the bulldog was dumb. Over and over and over, Cary and Miss Barrymore patiently went through their lines. Each time the bulldog messed up the act. When I left, they had shot the scene 10 times, and the dog still hadn't got his part right. Why they didn't just shoot him I don't know.

How would you like to be a million-dollar-a-year movie star and still be at the mercy of a befuddled bulldog?

Wherever he goes, the movie star is recognized, pointed at, buttonholed and whispered about. People regard him as public property. He can't even go into a store and buy a pair of shoelaces without a fanfare of trumpets.

Most movie stars say this lack of the ordinary anonymity that shelters most of us is the biggest curse of their careers. Yet if a movie star does go into a store and buys a pair of shoelaces, and no one recognizes him, he dies a thousand deaths. Is he slipping?

Glamour, romance, excitement? Where? A hobo on the road has more liberty than a movie star—and probably more real human fun.

ODD AIRPORT — Amidst rugged mountains and arid deserts, the Kandahar Airport 15 miles south of Kabul, Afghanistan, looks like an oasis in the desert. General design is for from that of airport buildings in the United States because it must serve a different purpose. It provides shelter from the blazing sun and the sometimes vicious elements.

What Foreign Policy?

By Dr. GEORGE S. BENSON

President Johnson, nearly everyone notices, has been almost too busy. He has the world's biggest job, but he is required to build fences, not along the Pedernales but along the Potomac and in the 50 states.

The first law of political leadership pertains to survival, and Mr. Johnson wishes a full term, okayed by the electorate. Because of this and his heavy responsibilities, it has been noticed that Mr. Johnson neglects foreign affairs. Another guess is that he knows the muddle is too much for the next few months, that it is not all his doing, and that it is so bad it cannot get much worse.

But it may get worse. Events are proving that U.S. foreign relations, lacking firm leadership, can get into serious disarray. Problems torture America all over the globe. Attacks, and affronts, and defeats occur daily. Little countries that vote in the U. N. step up the blackmail they have been encouraged to use. Sacking embassies and destroying U. S. property is a popular pastime. This always impresses the leader of the free world as well as any nations wanting foreign aid.

BESIDES THE heckling, the responsibilities that attend our world position are most awesome. Mistakes are bound to occur. Some reverses in this divided and complicated task are certain. Big powers are not likely to be loved by lesser, nationalistic states. Call some of the mob scenes foreign aid "promotion," political steam-letting, or plain blackmail. Call some of it manufactured in Moscow. The world, perhaps, only seems to be turning wholly anti-American. Nevertheless, things do look worse than they have for many months if not years. The price of leadership is high. We have not always understood this. We thought the price was our dollars for their affection and gratitude. A fantastic, free purse of some $104 billions has been devoted to buying appreciation.

Today, some of the nations we've helped most are the very ones most active in anti-American riots and violence. Lacking has been respect, and an awareness that the U. S. would defend its best interests. How long the U. S. will permit this bullying from lesser countries while trying to be fair and helpful to them is part of the problem.

WHAT HAS BEEN the basic flaw? It has been lack of a firm foreign policy that can be understood and interpreted around the globe. We have not been lacking in alliances, but these have entangled us in so many confusing situations that people have concluded that we understand neither other nations nor ourselves. That is not entirely true, of course. But it does seem that we have been floundering about without a consistent and explainable national and world policy.

Our foreign accomplishments during recent years have amounted only to various broadening agreements with the Soviet Union. These include the test-ban treaty, the hot line between our two capitals, and other agreements. One looks in vain through the record for positive developments that involve no lost ground. The retreats and the failures, despite the expenditure of billions in aid, are evident wherever you look: Laos, New Guinea, Africa, or Cuba. And now, South Vietnam, as well as other outposts in Africa and Latin America, threaten to slip into the Soviet orbit.

WHAT SORT OF TACTICS does the U. S. depend upon in its relations with Moscow? It all becomes clearer each day. While the two powers have agreed to disagree, we are able to allow the Communists to go ahead making the world their own. If the U. S. does not more effectively unite the freedom loving nations into opposition to world Communism, it may soon be too late. This is an issue that should, and could, be the basis of new foreign approaches.

A strong foreign policy could be built, whenever Mr. Johnson (or his successor) can get the time and renovate the State Department, around the idea of freedom and opposition to Communism.

It is the kind of confrontation that Mr. Khrushchev understands and respects. It is the kind that meets his noisiest objections. (He respects NATO, but he will use whatever he can, even the U. N. in Cyprus, to sap its power.)

Setbacks around the globe will not drive the U. S. into isolationist withdrawal, but we must be sure that these experiences contribute to the formation of a more adequate foreign policy. This, Mr. President, is urgent.

HOME IS ENTERED
Mable Hamilton of 177 W. Wilson St. reported to police that someone apparently broke into her home between 8:15 and 11:05 p.m. Thursday. She said she was not home during that time and when she returned she found the rear door broken open. Nothing was reported missing.

Navy's three long football trips next fall will take Coach Wayne Hardin's team to Ann Arbor, Mich., to face Michigan, to Jacksonville to face Georgia Tech and to Berkeley to play California.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Visit Dentist During Pregnancy

"A tooth for every baby" may be an old wife's tale, but too often this tale is true. It is not because the fetus absorbs calcium from the mother's teeth. This does not happen.

Dr. Brandstadt and excessive decay and gum infections are not unusual.

Diet and eating habits change. If all pregnant women had the will of a patient of mine who gained seven pounds during her pregnancy and delivered a 9-pound baby, this would not apply. But indulgence in food cravings, eating between meals, and excessive intake of sweets, not only adds poundage and incurs the displeasure of the obstetrician, but it also exposes the teeth and gums to insults over and above the normal.

THUS, EXERCISING good dental hygiene takes on added significance. Since the purpose of brushing is to clear away the debris, teeth and gums should be brushed after all meals.

Brushing also helps in the control of gum infection, or gingivitis. Not every pregnant woman gets gingivitis. It is common enough at this time, however, to be given the special name "pregnancy gingivitis." Maintaining good mouth health may not prevent this condition, but it can prevent complicating secondary infections such as Vincent's infection, commonly called "trench mouth."

During pregnancy there are changes in the balance of hormones in the body. This change in balance affects all parts of the body and the gums are no exception.

GUMS OFTEN BECOME swollen, soft and spongy. They bleed easily and may be painful.

The color may change from pink to red. Areas primarily affected are the interdental papillae which are triangular pads of tissue that fill the spaces between the necks of the teeth.

In rare cases they become so large they are called "pregnancy tumors" and even though they are harmless, benign growths, they may get large enough to interfere with chewing and have to be removed.

Your first visit to the obstetrician should be followed by a visit to your dentist so that your teeth and gums may be examined and plans made for teeth cleaning and other necessary treatment.

Man Pleads Innocent To Obscene Film Count

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Bud J. Fares, Mahoning County Youngstown Civil Defense director who is accused of possessing obscene motion pictures, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Thursday and a hearing was set for June 2 by Judge Martin P. Joyce. Fares was released on his own recognizance.

Fares, 49, was arraigned shortly after he was charged with possession of obscene literature, to wit, the motion pictures. He was arrested Wednesday as he approached his county-owned car near the courthouse.

Sheriff's deputies said they found two rolls of 8-mm film in the car and that they had Fares under surveillance for some time. He was held in the county jail overnight without charge.

Widow Awarded $645,000 In Plane Death of Husband

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge today approved an award of $645,000 plus interest to the wife of a chemist killed in an airplane collision over New York City on Dec. 16, 1960.

The settlement was the largest amount ever in a death case, said William F. X. Geoghan, attorney for the wife, Edna Kamlet, of 923 Fifth Ave.

Her husband, Dr. Jones Kamlet, one of 134 persons killed in the accident, was credited with developing a tablet for diabetic diagnosis. He was 46 years old and had a consulting firm at 400 Park Ave.

Under the terms of the settlement, approved by State Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, United Air Lines would pay $402,118; Trans World Airlines $98,881, and the U.S. government $144,000.

The lines operated the planes involved in the collision. The government was named as a defendant also because the Federal Aviation Agency had been issuing instructions to the planes at the time of the crash.
